

The FCC should not consider any proposal that would lessen Indiana's telephone privacy law. Quality family time is precious and should not be interrupted or distracted by annoying unwanted nuisance calls.